REVIEW AND OUTLOOK

Market Review

At the beginning of 2020, the market expected the US-China trade war to be relieved, the U.S. economy continues to grow and economic activities in the mainland regain momentum. An optimistic atmosphere dominates the market, Hang Seng Index once again rose to an eight-month high of 29,174 points on 20 January 2020. Immediately afterwards, the number of confirmed COVID-19 cases surged and the stock market began to collapse. During the first quarter of 2020, the COVID-19 outbreak spreads globally, caused disruptions in various business segments across the world and investors retreated from risky assets to hold cash. The plunge of asset prices and oil prices triggered panic sale and liquidity crunches globally. In March, Hang Seng Index dropped to a three-years low of 21,139 points.

After experiencing a crash, the stock market has start to rebound in the second quarter as many countries have successively introduced fiscal and monetary policy measures to try to support employment, stabilize growth, and support enterprises to tide over difficulties. Also, some countries over the world have started to resume work after the peak of the epidemic. At the same time, China and the United States have caused disputes due to the COVID-19 epidemic and Hong Kong's national security law. In the third quarter, the second wave of the epidemic broke out and US-China relations fell into a trough, stock markets have undergone some correction.

With fears and pessimisms caused by the continuing spread of COVID-19 and concerns regarding global economy, the Hang Seng Index closed at 23,459 points at the end of September 2020 compared with 23,603 points at the end of March 2020. Despite the challenging macroeconomic environment, investors' activity in the stock market has not decreased but increased due to the initial public offering boom and the market's vision for new economic stocks. The average daily turnover on the Main Board and GEM during the six months ended 30 September 2020 was approximately HK$127.3 billion, an increase of 48.4% as compared with approximately HK$85.8 billion for the prior financial period.

Business Review

Broking and securities margin financing

During the period ended 30 September 2020, the broking business posted a profit of approximately HK$9.4 million (2019: loss of HK$0.1 million). The operating result of the broking business turned into profit as a result of the increase in broking turnover and number of sizeable corporate finance transactions during current period. The increase in broking turnover was affected by the volatile local stock market and positive global investment atmosphere. Revenue from broking for the period increased by 46.7% to approximately HK$31.1 million (2019: HK$21.2 million) as compared with last financial period, of which approximately HK$10.0 million (2019: HK$2.6 million) was contributed by the underwriting, placing and proof of funds business. The increase in these fee income was due to the increase in number of deals as a result of the active capital market during the current period.

Securities margin financing remained to be the Group's major revenue contributor for the period. During the period, total interest income from securities margin financing went down by 9.8% to approximately HK$153.6 million (2019: HK$170.3 million) with the decrease in average level of securities margin lending during the period. Total outstanding loan of securities margin financing as at 30 September 2020 amounted to approximately HK$4,218.2 million (as at 31 March 2020: HK$3,692.3 million). Impairment loss on margin clients receivable of HK$75.1 million was charged during the current period (2019: HK$55.4). The Group will continue to maintain a balance on yield relative to risk and cautious approach to the credit control of its margin financing business.

Corporate finance

The Group's corporate finance business focused on the provision of financial advisory services to listed companies in Hong Kong. During the period ended 30 September 2020, it completed 4 financial advisory transactions (2019: 1). The operation reported a profit of approximately HK$0.6 million for the period (2019: HK$0.2 million).

Outlook

The ups and downs of the global epidemic is still the biggest uncertainty to the global economy, the impact of COVID-19 will probably last for a period of time. Economic activities will not fully resume until the crisis is under control. Countries along the “Belt and Road” were also affected and China’s investment in these countries’ infrastructure development was slow down. At the same time, the conflict between China and the United States brought further uncertainties to the global trade environment. It is expected that the uncertainties to the overall economy will last for a period of time.

In the future, the business environment of the Group will continue to be competitive. The increasing regulatory requirements such as the recent effected guidelines for securities margin financing activities issued by the Securities and Futures Commission brought further compliance-related and system-related costs to the Group which may impact the cost efficiency and earnings growth of the Group. However, in recent there have been waves of initial public offering in the Hong Kong stock market and investors are enthusiastic about applying for subscription, it may be a chance for the Group to attract potential clients and expand the client base.

Dealing with the future challenges, the management of the Group would review and adjust business strategies on regular basis with a prudent and balanced risk management approach. The management of the Group remains cautiously optimistic about the business development and overall performance of the Group in the future. The Group is endeavoring to render comprehensive services to our affluent and high-net-worth clients in order to maintain our clients’ confidence and loyalty. Given our lean and efficient organization structure, stable clients base, strong track record and solid business fundamentals, the Group is poised to expand its horizons and scale new heights in the years to come in order to continue maximizing returns and value for all shareholders.
